SANTA & COLE

IP 20

A line of light and a thin aluminum sheet. The elegance of its arch is visible even to the most distracted eyes, soon pleased by the calmness of its reflected light. The concave surface in matte white, intended to ensure optimal light quality without glare, contrasts with a glossy reverse that adds a refined visual effect.

The Lámina family was born aloft as a series of pendant lamps, with a lightness that speaks of intelligence. When standing as luminous sculptures, they stand out against any surface behind them.
